		Expected outcome	This Programme offers the learners the opportunity to study influential writings from the British, American, and global Anglophone traditions. • The Courses focus on a historical period, an issue or theme, a critical approach, or a literary genre. • It also provides imaginative and critical insights into all areas of human experience-war and peace, nature and culture, love and sexuality, selfhood and social identity, justice and atrocity, the sacred and the profane, the burdens of history and the dreams of the future. Learning to attend to the complexities of literary texts helps learners become more active and critical readers, and the creative aspects of literary texts highlight the ability of the written word to elicit feeling, to cultivate an imaginative openness to others' experiences, and to call us to account as humans. • Studying literature at PG level encourages all graduates to view the reading of challenging and imaginative texts as an essential and rewarding part of a life-long commitment to learning and growth. • Apart from developing the literary skills, this Programme help the learners build skills of analytical and interpretive argument; become careful and critical readers; practice writing-in a variety of genres-as a process of intellectual inquiry and creative expression; and ultimately to become more effective thinkers and communicators who are well-equipped for a variety of careers in our information-intensive society. • This Programme also inculcates the research aptitude among the learners.
